High School Hiltorial

The 1965 Hiltorial is a reflection of the year's happenings in word and picture; from the half year split sessions to the undefeated cross country team, from the unfinished Junior Building to the intensely patriotic Sophomore Class, from the Senior Play to the French Club's baked food sales. We have experimented with a few new ideas for the purpose of making the book more interesting and complete.

Here is 1965 as we wish to remember it.

In Remembrance

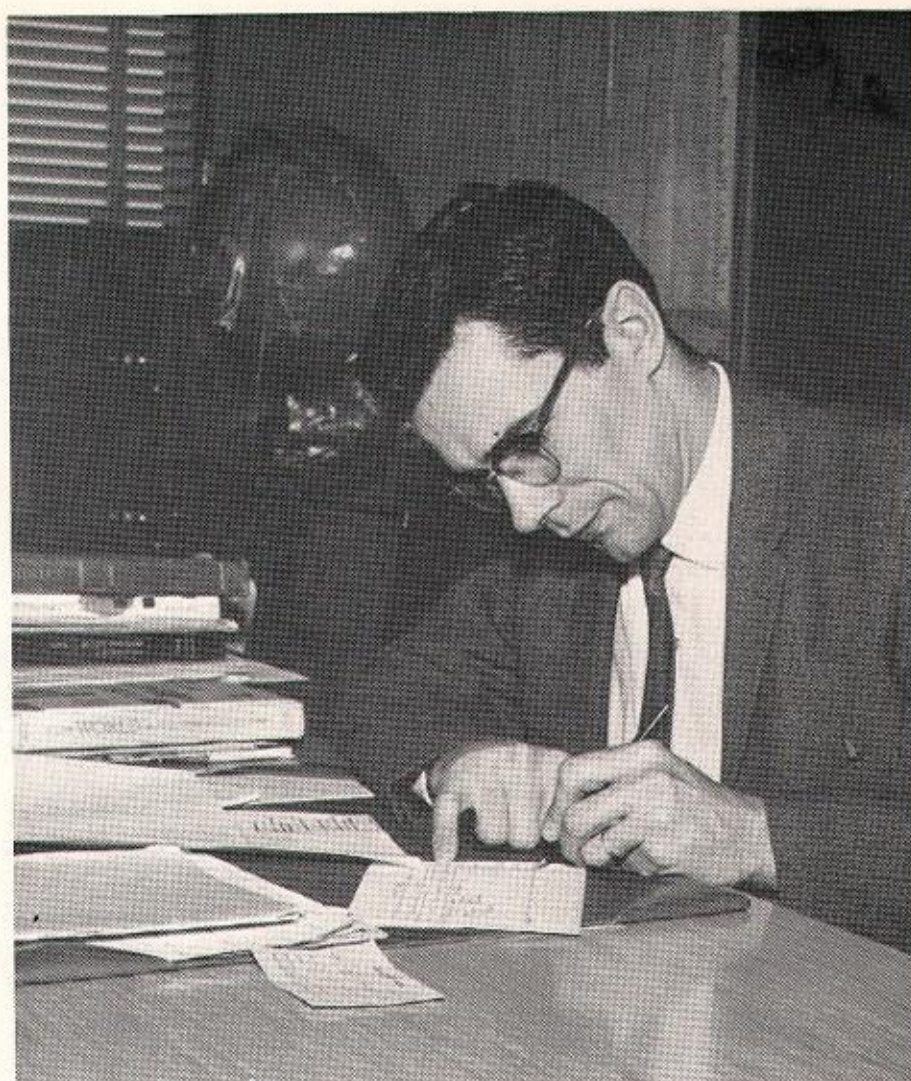

John William Collamer

Smart lad, to slip betimes away
From fields where glory does not stay
And early though the laurel grows
It withers quicker than the rose.

—A. E. Housman

To Mr. Donald Mabie, yearbook advisor, goes our thanks for sacrificing his time, transporting us when necessary, keeping the schedule as best he could, and giving advice when he deemed necessary.

In Appreciation

To Mr. Ralph Walker, yearbook photographer, goes our thanks for always coming when we needed him so badly, making suggestions to improve our ideas, and not laughing at our inefficiencies.

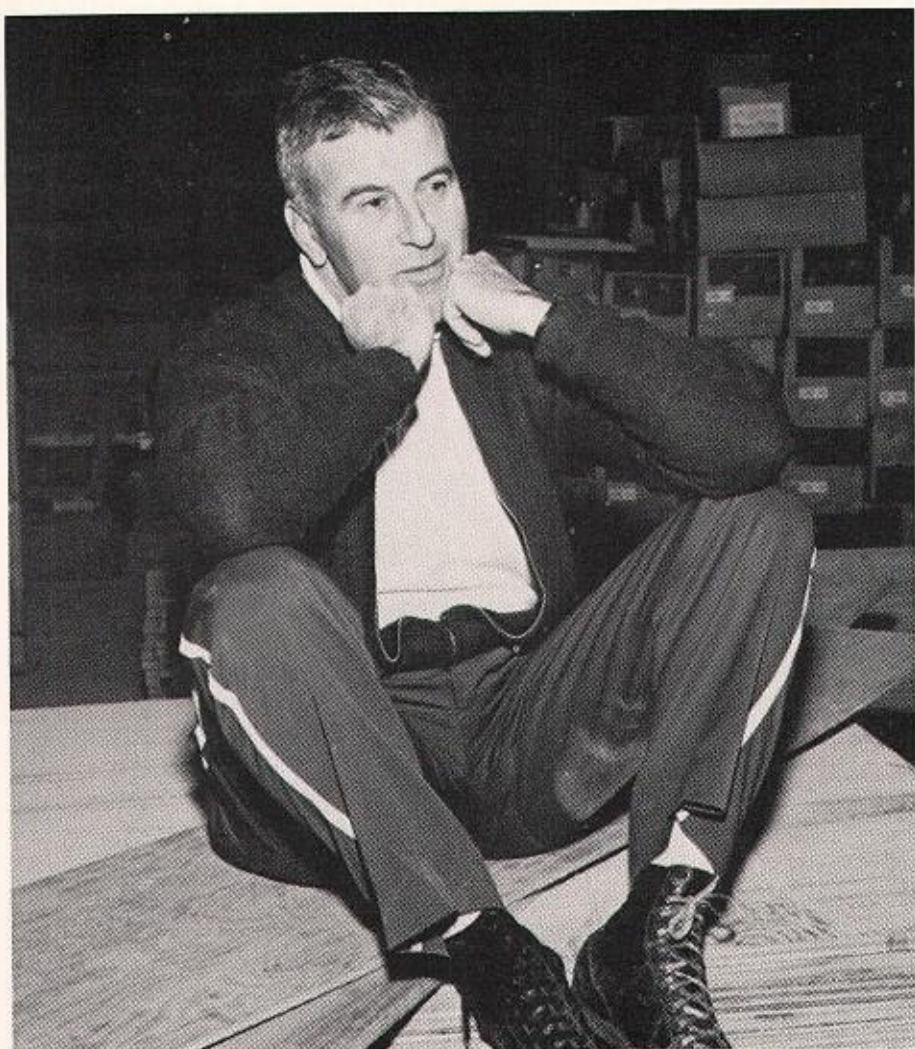

Mr. Tolhurst shows his scrapbook of Hilton teams

In Dedication: Joseph "Joe"

Mr. Joseph Tolhurst has been the symbol of sportsmanship since his arrival at Hilton in 1947. In his first year, at the Henry Street school, he coached 2 basketball teams and a baseball team. The next year, he coached the Junior Varsity baseball and Varsity basketball teams. In 1949, Mr. Tolhurst coached the soccer team, which was introduced that year. Since 1951 he has coached, off and on, the varsity baseball teams. In 1963, he coached the undefeated Freshman basketball team. Mr. Tolhurst, as athletic director of Hilton Central, has seen sports increase from three inter-scholastic teams to a total of seventeen teams. In the coming years, he hopes to see the forming of football, swimming, and lacrosse teams.

"Joe" laments over unfinished Jr. High gym.

Tolhurst

Mr. Tolhurst has not only coached many teams but his entire life has been devoted to athletics. A native of East Syracuse, New York, Mr. Tolhurst was one of eight children. In high school, he played baseball and basketball. His outstanding athletic abilities earned him a scholarship to St. Lawrence University. He later attended Boston University. During his years at college, he was captain of the basketball and baseball teams, being named to the All-East squad in basketball. After college, Mr. Tolhurst was offered a contract with the Syracuse Nationals but chose the teaching profession instead. Today, Mr. Tolhurst and his wife, also a school teacher, reside in Hilton. Mr. Tolhurst keeps active in sports by coaching and being a member of the Rochester Chapter of the National Referees Association.

Faculty and Administration

In order to run a school in a proper manner, there must be efficient and worthy administrators with learned and patient teachers backing them up.

At Hilton, the administration and the faculty both fit these vital requirements. As you go through your high school years, you begin to realize that a great deal of work is put into teaching—and all this work is being done for your benefit.

Administration

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Lewis Markham, as Executive Principal of Hilton Central School, assumes the leadership in educational matters in the school system. He is responsible for the improvement of education in the system. He carries out the policy of the Board of Education for the functioning of the school. Besides directing the procurement of the faculty and other school personnel, he directs the operations and maintenance of all buildings and equipment.

Mr. Wayne Furness, the High School Principal, and Mr. Joseph Lester, the Junior High Principal, are concerned with the operation of educational activities in their respective buildings. Each is in charge of faculty, teaching, student discipline, and extracurricular activities in his building. Both are responsible to the Executive Principal, and are continually seeking an improvement in teaching methods and curriculum used in Hilton Central.

Administration sees that the job gets done.

The Board of Education is the local policy making body of our school system. As such, the Board is constantly occupied with the re-evaluation of our school curriculum, our instructional personnel and the overall operation of the system.

In addition to the broad aspects of overall control, the Board finds itself involved in many details, such as planning, financing, and contracting for additional physical facilities as well as maintaining present facilities.

To handle these myriad responsibilities the Board meets in regular session two times a month and in actual practice must meet weekly to handle the work load that the district requires.

The Board in reaching decisions must attempt to represent the best interests of students, faculty and taxpayers of the district.

There's got to be a solution!

Guidance

GUIDANCE

The Guidance department's aim is to help each student make the most of himself and his educational opportunities. Its testing program and cumulative record system support the teacher in his work with each student. The counselors aid pupils in vocational planning, personal and social problems, and in problems of learning and study. The counseling program is geared to helping the student clear away his particular obstacles to educational growth.

A future being planned.

GUIDANCE

The Guidance departments of both the Senior High and the Junior High have grown this year. Mr. Dollard has joined Miss Allen and Mr. Moore in the Senior High, and Miss Gray has joined Mr. Bellinger in the Junior High guidance office. With the help of these people it is possible for the guidance office to carry out its purposes even more efficiently.

The Guidance department confidently sizes up the school situation.

Secretaries

SECRETARIES

The secretaries of our school perform many services for the school besides fulfilling their secretarial duties, such as taking dictation, typing, and doing machine work. They also issue bulletins, set up appointments, operate the switchboard, and take care of the bookkeeping for extracurricular activities. Besides these obligations, the secretaries must take care of many small jobs which may arise.

Business Department

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

This school's Business Department has three primary aims. To those students who will terminate their formal education upon graduation from high school, the Business Department offers a chance to prepare for immediate employment. It furnishes a solid business background for other students who plan to continue their education and to major in this field. Some students, although mainly concerned with other areas of study, still wish to develop business skills and, therefore, choose electives provided by the Business Department.

ENGLISH

The English Department deals with the arts of communication: impression (reading and listening) and expression (writing and speaking). To aid the students in the development of these arts, Public Speaking and Dramatics have been added to the English program this year. Debate and Discussion are also being proposed for next year. Through these electives and the required English classes, students are encouraged to seek meaning and understanding in life and to relate them to others.

In the Junior High School English program students are given the opportunity to develop a sincere appreciation for literature as a result of class readings of various short stories, novels, and poetry. Composition skills are enthusiastically stressed, and instruction in grammar and usage is ever present. Reading, a new course of study, offers the students an opportunity to improve a vitally important skill. Improved vocabulary is stressed as well as appreciation and understanding of the written word.

Row One: Mr. H. Appell, Mrs. M. Rowland. Row Two: Mr. K. Beal, Mr. C. Bennett, Mr. V. Stevens.

Department

During the past three years, the Science Department has been greatly renovated. Earth Science, formerly a regents subject in the ninth grade, has changed status to that of a twelfth grade elective. In place of Earth Science, Science 231 is being offered. Science 231 is an introductory course in Chemistry and Physics.

The non-regents courses have also been changed. Non-regents students may take General Science in their Freshman year, non-regents Biology in their Sophomore year, and Physical science in their Junior year. The purpose of the non-regents sequence is to provide those students not continuing their education beyond High School with a general background in Science.

Unlike the High School program, the Junior High program requires that each student take Science each year. The sixth grade classes are taught by Mr. Stevens and Mrs. Rowland. Their course follows the regular sixth grade plan, including electricity and weather. Mr. Bennett is in charge of the seventh grade classes which learn about Biology and Health. The Eighth grade students study Earth Science and Physics under Mr. Appell and Mr. Beal. The whole Junior High Science program is becoming more advanced.

History

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT
SENIOR HIGH

The Senior High Social Studies Department is composed of seven members: Mrs. Dorothy Fowler and Mr. Brace Harris in charge of ninth grade World Geography, Mr. Walter Vanderbush teaching tenth grade World History, Mr. Thomas Shumanski and Mr. Clifford Orr teaching the bulk of the eleventh grade American History classes, Mr. Robert Burns teaching twelfth grade Problems of Democracy and eleventh grade American History, and Mr. Leonard Wright, Department Chairman, directing the twelfth grade American History Regents section. Mr. Wright, Mr. Burns, Mr. Harris, and Mr. Shumanski are busily engaged in making plans for a number of new elective courses for the twelfth grade next year. These courses will be in the fields of Economics, Regional Studies, and Comparative Government and will supplant the present twelfth grade part of the two unit American History course.

Ruth finds herself absorbed in the subject of American History.

JUNIOR HIGH HISTORY

The Junior High History Department is concerned with developing a basic understanding of local and national history. The seventh grade text, New York: The Empire State, develops the theme of history through specific study of New York State. The eighth grade expands this topic into a study of the United States. Most of the eighth grade classes use the text, The Story of American Democracy. One class, however, is using a new book, Five Centuries in America, as an experiment. The department provides for expanded and continued study of history in the Senior High.

Mathematics

SENIOR HIGH MATH

This year some revisions were made in the math curriculum with the introduction of modern algebra. In line with the trend in many schools, the department anticipates introducing the modern approach to mathematics in other areas as time goes by. It is the department's intention to keep the students well prepared and up to date in mathematics so that they will be able to benefit from future college work in mathematics.

JUNIOR HIGH MATH

The Junior High department of Mathematics is progressing through a program of modern mathematics. A single series of textbooks is being used systematically throughout the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. It is basically concerned with the number system, geometry, and algebra. The entire program is designed to provide the students with a sound basis for Senior High mathematics.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

This year two new faces, in the persons of Mrs. Allis, teaching the Senior High girls physical education classes, and Miss Murnin, teaching the Junior High girls, have been added to the physical education department. Mr. Christ teaches the Senior High boys classes, while Mr. Krotz assists both Mrs. Allis and Mr. Christ. Mr. Tolhurst teaches the Junior High boys classes. The program for both boys and girls includes rhythmical activities, stunts and tumbling, apparatus, and team and individual sports.

Drivers' Education

Despite plans to drop Driver Education from the High School Curriculum, classes have been expanded with Mr. Wolfe, assisting Mr. Caton with road classes. Students taking Driver Education receive instruction four times weekly, two theory classes which are taught in the classroom and two road classes. Each theory class consists of fifteen to twenty students. The material covered ranges from a general description of the internal combustion engine to safety principles and traffic law. Four students meet in road classes with an instructor for actual driving lessons. The course lasts for one semester, and the final exam consists of a written test and a road test. Those students completing the course with a better than eighty average receive a lowered insurance rate as well as the privilege of obtaining a Senior license before reaching the age of eighteen.

LANGUAGE

All Foreign Language in Hilton Central School is divided into three parts: French, German, and Latin. The French, in rooms 11 and 34, is taught by Miss Le Schander and Mr. Bergeron; the German, in rooms 9 and 34, by Miss Colegrove; and, the Latin, in rooms 7 and 11 by Mrs. Butler and Mr. Bergeron. Each course has several offerings: French I, II, III, IV; German I, II, III; Latin I, II, (and III and IV are alternate). About three hundred students inhabit these rooms and enjoy the customs, laws and language therein. All three departments have active clubs.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Senior High Home Economics department is concerned primarily with preparing students for life after high school and college. In homemaking I students learn about basic food preparation and meal planning. In the second part of the course, students learn to care for the sick and injured in the home. In homemaking II, students learn first basic sewing techniques and later, art principles and consumer education in relation to homes and their furnishings. Those students in homemaking III learn advanced food techniques, tailoring, marriage and family living, and child care. Homemaking V, open to both juniors and seniors, stresses the importance of adequate preparation for marriage and the problems and solutions common to many young marrieds. Through all these courses, the home economics department prepare students for life after graduation.

This year the Junior High Homemaking course lasts 20 weeks. The seventh grade homemaking course is concerned mainly with foods and nutrition. Students, under the direction of Mrs. Kincaid, learn to prepare foods and then learn the value of these foods. The emphasis of the eighth grade homemaking course, on the other hand, is placed on sewing. Mrs. Kincaid and Mrs. Granger help each girl make her own jumper.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Industrial Arts gives students the opportunity to learn about industry. Materials, tools, processes, jobs, products, organizations, and problems of industry are studied with special emphasis on their relation to human beings. Work habits are developed through reading texts, visiting factories, planning projects and using tools and materials in the field of wood and metal working, electricity, ceramics, printing, and textiles. The students learn to be a very important part of our industrial society.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

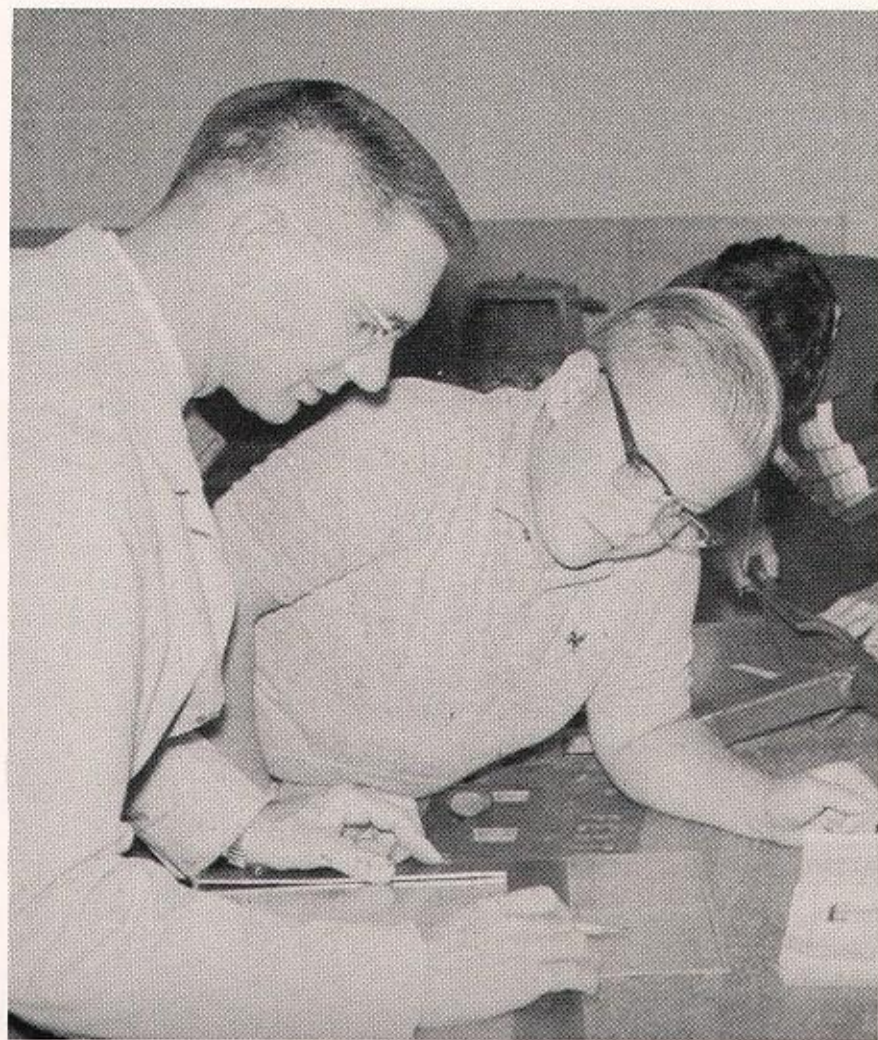

Having been revised this past year, the vocational agriculture department is now geared more closely to fill the needs of boys of the Hilton area in occupations in agriculture. These occupations include production, marketing, research, sales service, engineering, and farming. Lectures, texts, and field trips help to provide the knowledge necessary in these occupations. Practical experience is also an important part of this department. Supervised programs include assisting farm operations, ownership of livestock and equipment, and investment in crops and other enterprises. All of these aids in developing skills connected with agriculture.

NURSING

Mrs. Wright, the Senior High nurse, and Mrs. Suydam, the Junior nurse, watch over the health of the students, faculty, and staff of our school. They take attendance, give physicals, keep the health records of each student up to date, and administer first aid when necessary.

MUSIC

New band and music rooms are a great asset for the growing Junior High music program. In a music course lasting twenty weeks, the students study historical periods in music, folk, and popular music, musical instruments, and musical drama. In addition to this, one hundred fifty students are taking instrumental lessons. Two Junior High bands have also been formed, and practice in the new, sound-proofed rooms. The program is growing continually with the greater interest in music taken by students.

The Senior High music program is also growing. There are now three Senior High bands, the Senior band, the marching band, and the newly formed concert band. All have won high honors in their fields. Seventy students also take instrumental lessons. In addition to the instrumental program, many students take part in the choral section. This includes the large chorus, vocal lessons, and several small vocal groups. Both this and the instrumental program are growing continually.

ART DEPARTMENT

The Senior High Art Department provides numerous opportunities for artistic expression to students with many different objectives. Basic Art offers experience in both technique and art appreciation to all. Painting in Oils involves experimentation with alizarin cuman, gesso panels, and the contrast of large and small subjects. Drawing and Painting students attempt subjects in various media. Costumes for school and party posters develop under the brushes of the Costume Design and Advertising students.

The Junior High Art Department has been following a General Art program. Two and three dimensional work with emphasis on the principles of color and design has been offered. The department has tried to give a better understanding of man's heritage in art, and awareness of art today and a vision of art for the future.

About 200 people will pass out of Hilton Central's Door this June, never to return as students again.

*They will come to miss the troublesome teachers, the regulated life.

They will look back on high school days with wistful thought.*

Ambassador to

"I was sure it was a dream till I met my foster family." This is usually how an A.F.S.'er commences.

I know that every A.F.S. student who has been here and is now residing here says the same thing and feels the same way. As one of the A.F.S. students, I'm no exception. Going abroad, especially to a country like the U.S.A., is a dream which you do not know whether will materialize or vanish. Mine, luckily, did come true.

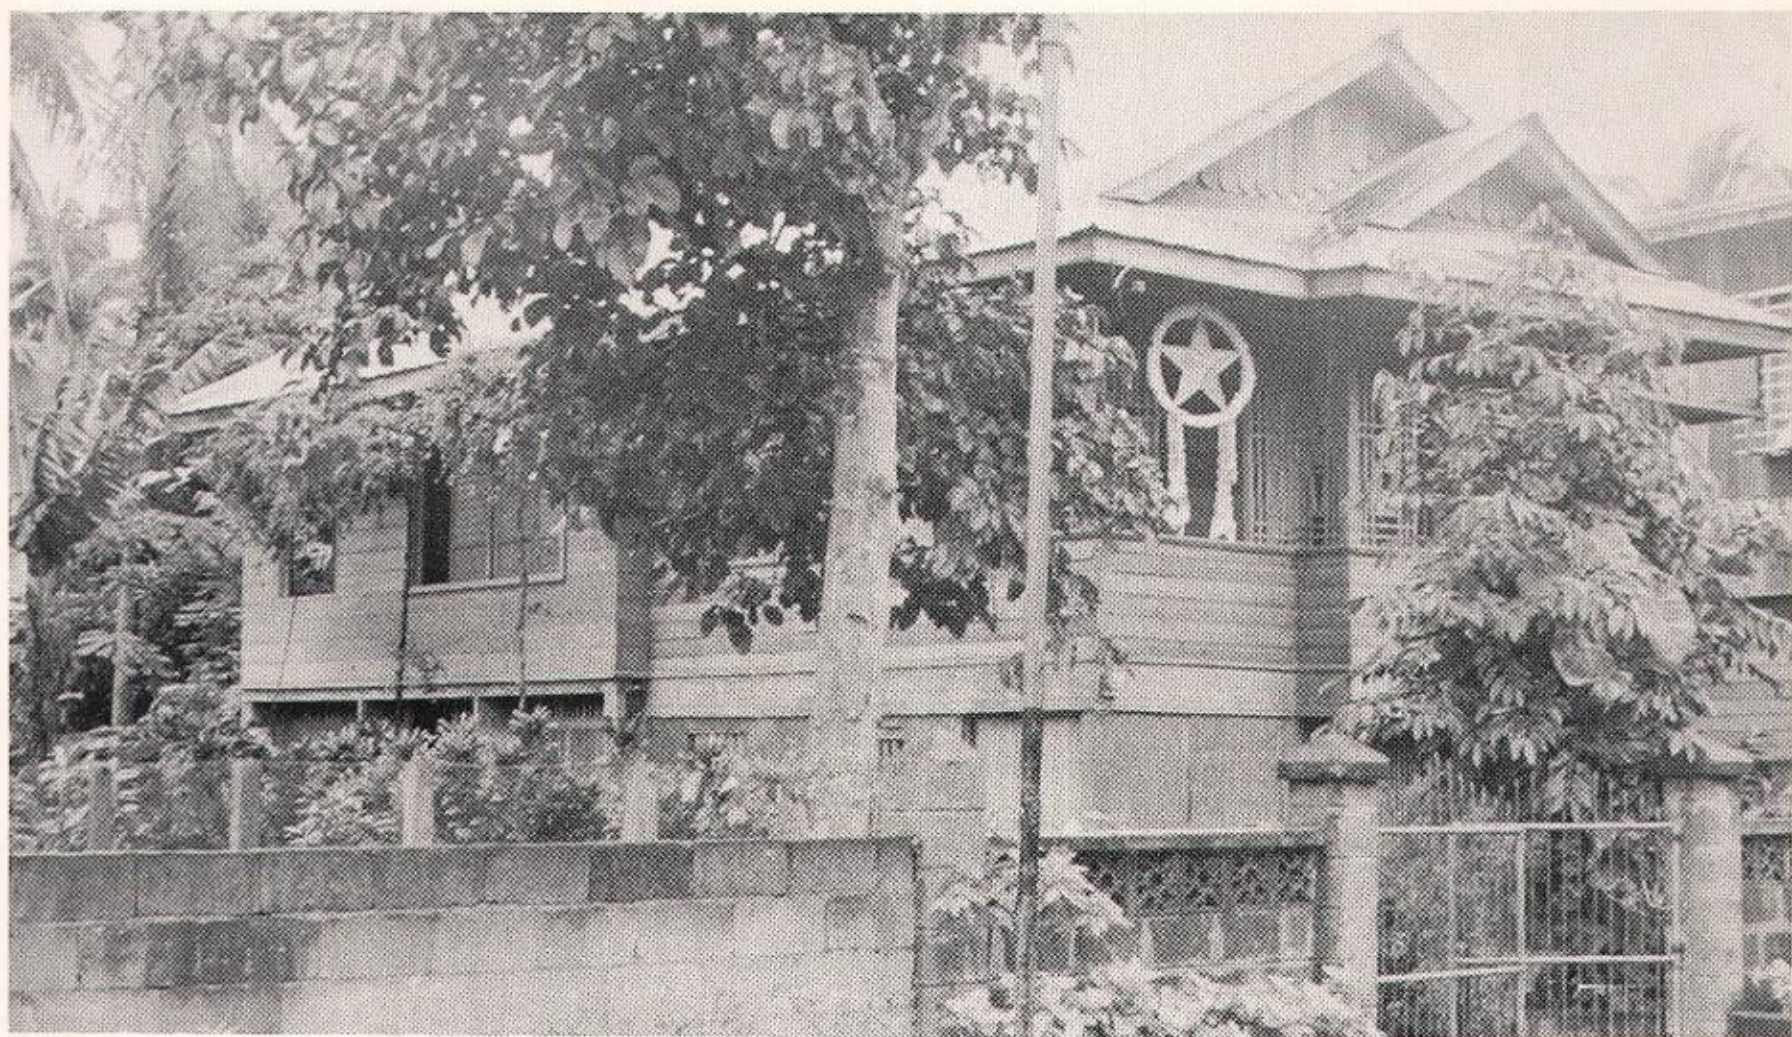

As a newcomer to Hilton Central, I noticed several differences between it and the high school I attended in San Pablo. The studies here are more difficult, but there is less homework because I take five subjects instead of eight. In the Philippines, there is no choice of subjects. There we have 10 grades instead of 12. Filipino teachers are more reserved in their attitudes toward students. Sports are part of our school life. We have no soccer, field hockey, or football, but we do play baseball, basketball, and tennis.

Dating customs are very different. Very few girls date while they are still in high school. The average age at which a girl marries is 23, much later than in the U.S.A.

In spite of the differences, I have found the people to be kind and friendly as the people at home. I am grateful to all of you for making me feel a part of the wonderful class of '65. I'll never forget this year. I'll treasure all the memories of Hilton.

Student Council

The Student Council is the official voice of the student body in matters of administration and policy. The Council was severely hampered this year by half sessions. Among the matters discussed in Council were football, a sign for the front of the school, and a change in class rings. The Council also staged the annual International Day Dance. The Student Council, with the promise of full sessions next year, looks forward to a more fruitful and influential position at Hilton Central.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is, as its name implies, entirely an honorary organization. To qualify for induction by the dramatic tapping ceremony, one must have a cumulative average of 85% or better and must excel in the four basic areas; Service, Character, Leadership, and Scholarship. The Honor Society, with Mr. Lubes as advisor and Edward Waz as president, inducted Twenty-seven students this year. Plans have been forwarded to make the Society more useful, such as by tutoring and by aiding new students, but its actual activities have been hindered by its stringent national constitution.

Yearbook Staff

The Enzians, composed of students in grades 10-12 whose cumulative average is 90% or better, took a more active part in school activities this year. As well as money-raising dances, they took a greater interest in such extracurricular activities as concerts and plays. At the end of the year, the Enzians enjoyed their annual dinner.

The Press Club voiced student grievances again this year. The Crier improved the quality of its material this year with a number of new features and columns. The sports staff gave a good account of itself. The club sponsored one of the most successful dances of the year, the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Plagued by deadline difficulties, the staff of the 1965 Hiltorial still managed to turn out a larger yearbook with a supplement containing spring and graduation exercises.

French Clubs

The German Club this year put on a play entirely in German and presented it, free of charge, after school. It also sponsored baked food sales to increase its treasury.

The Latin Club's highlight was its Saturnalia, which featured a fine, self-prepared dinner, togas fashioned from sheets, and the hilarious auctioning of slaves, or new members.

The French Club was very active this year. Besides numerous baked food sales, the club held a dance and took a trip to French-speaking Montreal, the highlight of the year for the club.

Basketball games were held between these clubs, and the year proved to be very enjoyable despite their late formation due to half sessions.

The Hilton Central High School Marching Band, in the past marching season, took more awards than any band in Hilton's history and ranks very close to Holley, the best band in the state. The band did not participate in any parade or other special event and not receive one of the top prizes.

The band is composed of 122 members, making it one of the largest bands in the state. It is divided into three groups, the playing band, the majorettes, and the colorguard. The new uniforms aided in the band's overall effect; the predominant black of the playing band, the red of the color-guard, and the pearl-white of the majorettes.

At Gorham Pageant of Bands, it placed fourth out of 21 bands, the majorettes placing first in separate competition. At the Caledonia Fair, Hilton swept every prize in Class A competition. The greatest triumph was placing fifth in a field of 51 bands at the State Exhibition at Syracuse. It was our first participation at that event. Besides these events, the band marched in virtually all the firemen's parades in this area.

The Hilton Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Lucie, looks forward to another year with even greater successes due to new and better music and because of the invaluable experience gained from the previous triumphal year.

Five members participated in the All-County Music Festival at Greece Arcadia High School. Seven members participated in the Junior High All-County Chorus at Churchville-Chili High School. In addition, the singing parts in Hilton's first musical, Brigadoon, were filled by members of the chorus.

Varsity, Junior

The traditionally strong cross country team completed another masterful season, compiling a league record of 8-0 and an overall record of 9-1, losing by only five points to McQuaid in a non-league match. This gives the team a league record of 18 wins against no losses over the past 2½ years. The top runners for the team were Roland Odell, Bob Blodgett, Dave Manchester, Pete Dwyer, Ed Schubert, Bob Henning, and Charlie Swift.

The Junior Varsity also compiled a fine record of 5 wins and one loss. Tom Lucas, Paul Kumpf, and Tim Johnson were the top runners of the team, placing first, second, and third, respectively in the County Junior Varsity Championships.

Roland Odell pushes to finish line.

The Times-Union All-County Cross Country Team was dominated by 5 Hilton runners; one senior, two juniors, and two sophomores. Roland Odell, co-captain of the team, was undefeated in 18 league meets, becoming the County B Individual Champion. Roland also placed second in the sectionals. Bob Blodgett placed fifth in the county and fifth in the sectionals. Dave Manchester was sixth in the county and eleventh in the sectionals. Pete Dwyer placed tenth in the sectionals. Ed Schubert was seventh in the county and thirteenth in the sectionals.

Varsity, Junior

This year, the varsity soccer team, coached by Mr. Klch and Mr. Krotz, rolled to a winning season of seven wins and five losses. Until the very end of the season, Hilton was deadlocked in a tie for first place but was knocked out of contention in a close game with Spencerport. The team worked well together with standout seasonal performances by Ray Barleben and Steve LaDue, both honored by the Times-Union, and by Mike VanAuker, goalie with an average of 1.25 goals allowed per game.

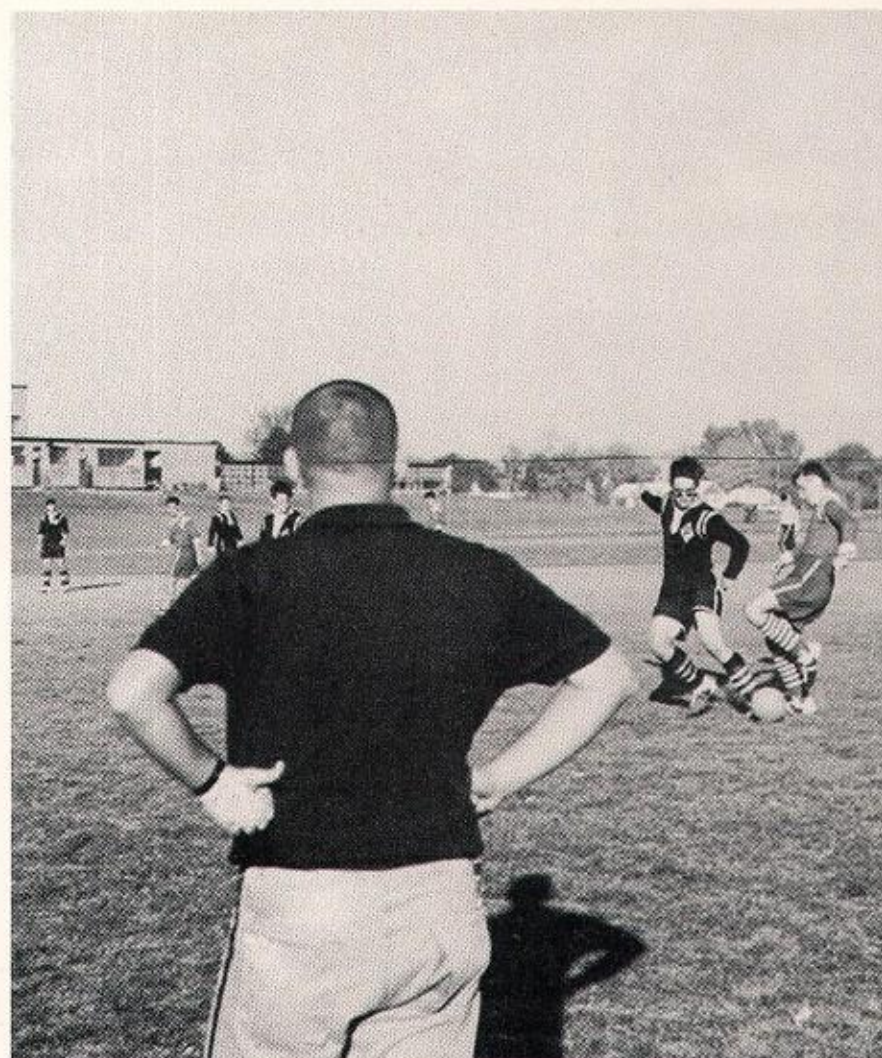

Fine teamwork and good coaching by Mr. Dzwigal led the junior varsity to a season marred by only one loss and one tie. Working well together were Dave Johns, Ralph Staples, Les Ryan, Kevin Damann, Al Trimmer, Marty Palmer, and Kenny Collamer.

Varsity

Defensive action early in the game.

The varsity basketball team was faced with a difficult season this year due to three main reasons; almost the entire starting five of last year were lost to graduation, a new starting five was very slow in developing, and many standouts on competitor teams had returned. The result was a mediocre overall record of 7 wins, 11 losses and a tie for fifth place in the league.

The team was not without talent. Seniors Newell Smith, honored by the Times-Union, Larry Lawrence, and Ray Barleben helped to stabilize and direct the team and deliver the timely basket. Ralph Roach, also honored by the Times-Union, was high scorer in game after game with his array of shots, followed eagerly by Dick VanHook, Bill McCann, and Mike Durrant.

Bench strength was delivered by Fred Ryan, John Curran, and especially Steve Morris and Bob Henning, who seemed to add inches to their height as the pressure increased and the rebounds became crucial.

The future looks very bright as many Juniors return and the Junior Varsity is promoted next year.

Junior Varsity,

The undefeated junior varsity basketball team, composed mostly of Sophomores who had just completed a season of undefeated freshman basketball, was a great source of pride and hope for the future. The team was a great crowd-pleaser. While invariably making a runaway of the game, the team deeply impressed the crowd with speedy passwork, an unshakeable press, and unerring shots.

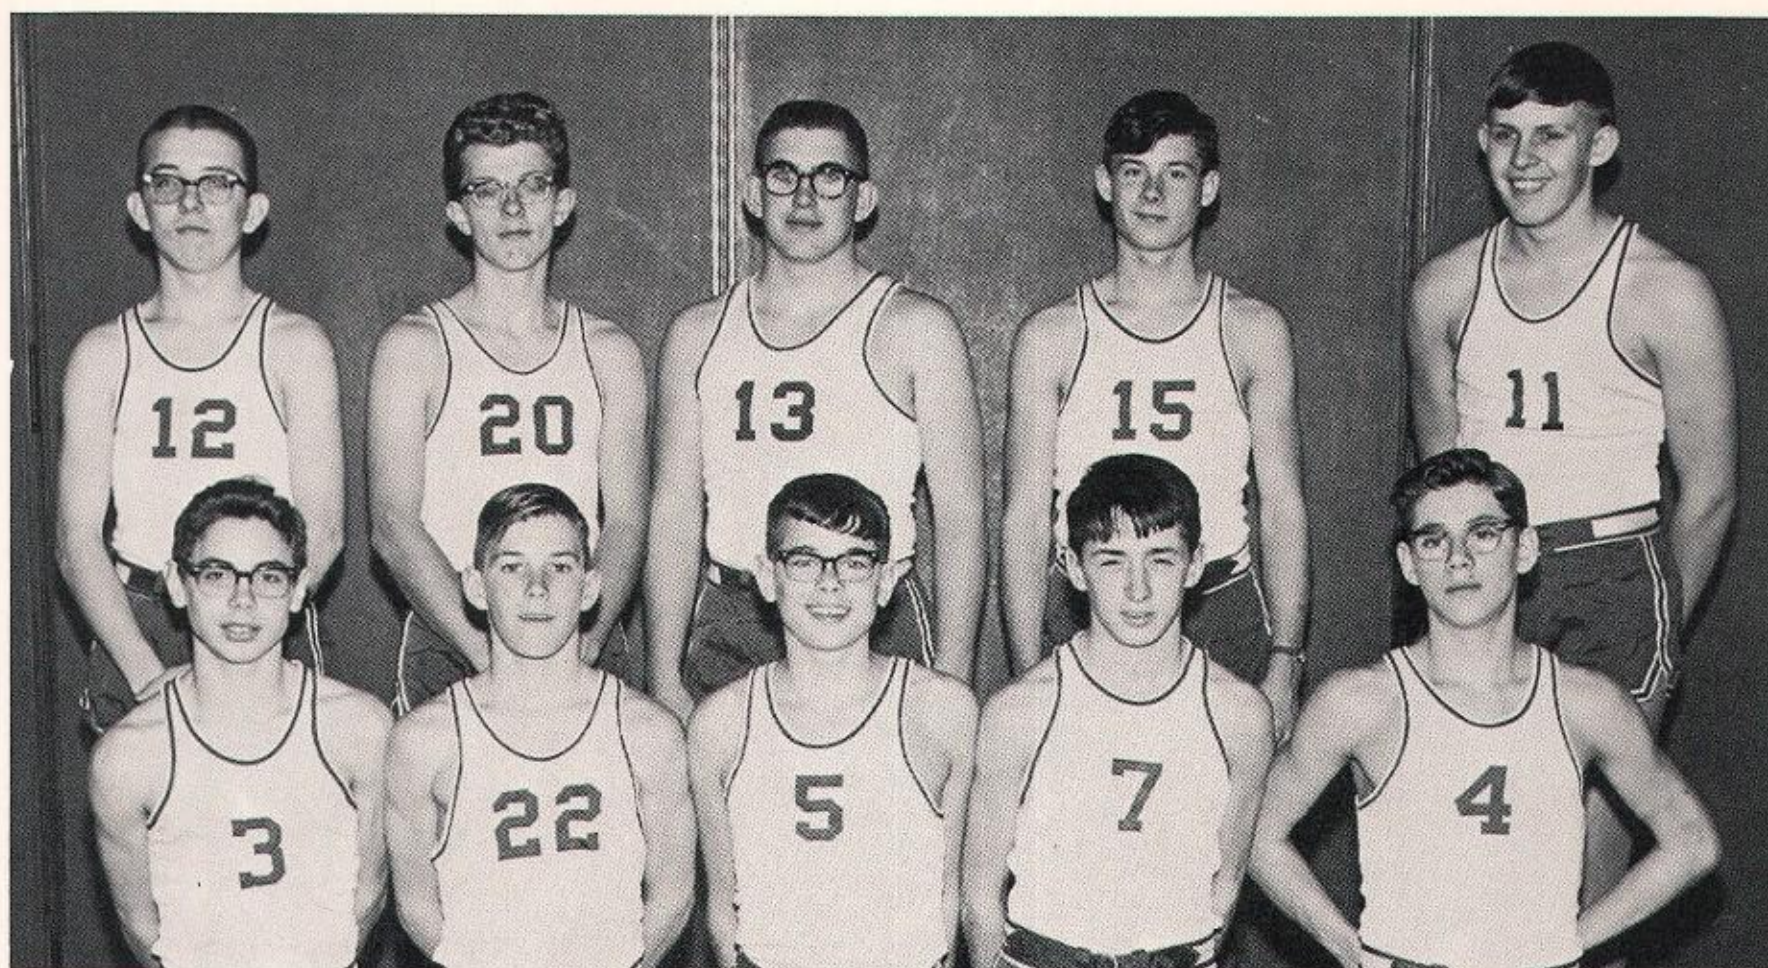

Ralph Staples and Dave Johns proved to be excellent backcourt men with good judgement and fast reflexes. Kevin Damann was the highest scorer of the team with unerring drives and outside shots. Quiet Les Ryan could always be counted on for his consistent outside shot. Though all four contributed, the rebounds were excellently handled by Mike Rood in bull-like fashion.

Bench strength was powerful with Al Trimmer and Rick Haight standing by, as well as Joe Sisson and "Sam" Huff. The three freshmen, Brad Lasch, George Harris, and Jim Slater, were all good rebounders, and saw a lot of action.

The secret of the team's success lies not in the individual talents. When asked, one member said, simply, "We're a team!"

Freshman Basketball

The freshman basketball team, coached by Mr. Shay, ended a successful year with a 7-5 record. Brad Lasch and Jim Slater, who both saw junior varsity action, were the outstanding players, excelling both in scoring and rebounding. Also standing out were co-captains Lynn Bronson and Paul Blodgett. The prospects for another good J.V. season seem bright as the boys move up.

In a league with many larger schools in it, the varsity wrestling team did well to earn a 6 won-8 lost-1 tied record. The standout wrestler was Mike VanAuker who had a league record of 18 wins and no losses. Mike made it to the county finals but lost the match by default after leading in the third period but suddenly dislocating his shoulder. Close behind him were Sophomores Dave Yockel, with a record of 9-4-1 and Dan Hermans, with a 9-5 record.

The junior varsity, coached by Mr. Wolff, saw limited action, wrestling mostly in exhibition. They finished the season with a 2-3 record. Bruce was the top wrestler of this squad.

Sidelights

Aside from the curricular and extra-curricular activities, there were many things which helped to form our school atmosphere. Textured stocking and ascots became very popular and Madras was synonymous with well-dressed. Hair in one's eyes was very common due to the profound effect of the Beatles on our modes of dress. There were the dress code-breaking sweat-shirt days. The Tiki helped denote the "in" group. The topics of conversation were diversified; the Cardinals beating the Yankees, the emergence of untold numbers of furry English singing groups imitating the Beatles, the many arguments, some informed, most not, on the Johnson-Goldwater campaign. We talked of the qualities of half-sessions, a hoped-for football team, augmentation of school spirit, the boldness of the Crimson Crier. There was much crowing, led mostly by the exuberant Sophomore class, about the undefeated cross-country team and Cinderella junior varsity basketball squad. We despaired as our sure bet for sectional wrestling champ, Mike Van Auker, dislocated his shoulder in the preliminaries. Finally, the Sunday morning fire in downtown Hilton, which killed one person, caused two million dollars' damage, and gave us three days' vacation from school made Hilton the brief center of regional attention.
